SUBJECT: Elaboration on NWMP-2 Meeting of 14 April 1983

REFERENCE: Memorandum for the Record dated 19 April 1983; Same Subject

In my comment on the Future Imaging Requirements Study, the statement by Dan Hutchinson from AAC regarding "the need for a DIA or Defense version of COMIREX to develop Defense imagery requirements on a broad basis" unfortunately was subject to misinterpretation. Hutchinson's remark was in response to a complaint from the DIA member of the Working Group that a unified, consistent set of military requirements were not presented to the IC committees by the military, but were submitted piecemeal by individual members. Mr. Hutchinson was suggesting that Defense should "get its act together" if it is felt that its requirements were not being satisfied by the national level mechanisms. I do not believe any action is required by the IC Staff on this matter.
